STUDY YANKEE RETAIL STORES

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 20.—Twenty-five foreign merchants, representing the largest department stores of the United Kingdom, will soon sail from England for a six weeks' tour of the United States to study American methods of retail-store management, with a view of establishing its use in England. The merchants, who will be the guests of the National Retail Dry Goods association, will visit first in the principal cities in the country.

Chambers of commerce throughout the country are joining with the national association and local merchants' organizations in preparing receptions for the visitors and giving them an opportunity to study American methods at close hand. Secretary of Commerce Alexander has promised to welcome the visitors in the name of the country and pledged the aid of the department in making their visit a successful one.

BOY WILL NOT LOSE EYESIGHT

Proctor Hug, son of Mrs. Clarence Kind, will not lose his right eye, as feared yesterday. When the bandages were removed this morning it was found that the optic nerve of pupil had not suffered. The boy, now playing ball two nights ago just as it was growing dusk. Another boy, who was hitting, knocked a stone toward Hug who did not observe it coming and received the full impact in the right eye. Medical attention was given the lad immediately but it seemed impossible to save the organ. Every arrangement was made to secure the best talent in San Francisco and the boy and Clarence Kind were to have left this evening. The improvement precludes the necessity for making the trip.

A long felt want. The Bonanza has printed and bound a fresh lot of location certificate books. Just what you want when you go out. The only way to preserve an absolute record of your claims.
